Dear Parents/ Guardians,

It gives me great pleasure to write at this time as we had an excellent start to the new academic year. A special welcome to the students and parents joining the Renaissance family this term I do hope you have adjusted to Renaissance and the online classes.

Having moved to our online platform you would have noticed that efforts were made throughout last term to balance the workload for both the online sessions as well as the offline assignments. These changes were made based on your feedback coupled with our ongoing experience. This being said we continue to adjust and improve a number of areas of our operations at the same time we remain open to suggestions that may assist in improving the experience and quality for all our students and parents.

In supporting you children navigate the platform and attendance in the respective class session there are a few pointers I will mention here.

OIS - Offline Independent Study

The idea behind this period suggest a level of independence from the teacher directed study. What we would hope to develop here is the skill of managing their offline study time. You will notice the teacher allowing the child in most cases independence to decide which of the offline assignments and the order they wish cover their work. Your involvement would depend on the needs and maturity of the child.

Punctuality and Attendance

It must be noted that while we have the majority of students regularly on time a few are habitually late. With the online sessions I ask that you ensure that your child logon at least 5min before the start, in that way they will not miss any work as well as not delay the class. Do note that late and absences are being recorded on the platform and will be reflected in the end of term report.

Kind regards,
